JAIMIE

GOODWIN

The Dancer's
EDGE

Jaimie Goodwin grew up in Virginia Beach, VA where she trained in performing arts under Denise Wall. She was a Top Ten Finalist on So You Think You Can Dance and she continues to return to the show as an All-Star.

She has also performed on over a dozen episodes of Dancing With the Stars (both as a guest performer and dancing for artists such as Adele and Annie Lennox), a reoccurring role on Glee, Two and a Half Men, Mad Men, and the lead female in Shawn Hook's video "Every Red Light". She has performed at both the 82nd and 85th Academy Awards, The Emmy's, and the 2012 and 2013 American Music Awards. You can also check her out on film in High School Musical 3, Rock of Ages, and Movement One: a dance documentary.

Jaimie has worked on several tours as assistant choreographer to Sonya Tayeh, including the Miley Cyrus and Kylie Minogue world tours. And she performed with Rasta Thomas and The Bad Boys of dance on several European tours. When she's not performing, she prides herself on inspiring and sharing her knowledge of dance with the next generation. She had the honor of teaching at Stanford University and continues to travel teaching on the faculty with a number of national conventions. You can also currently find her performing and teaching around the world!
